Cave Spring Cellars

Niagara Peninsula, Ontario
cavespring.ca

CAVE SPRING

In 1978, John Pennachetti, Sr. and his son Leonard planted some of Niagara's first European varietals at Cave Spring Vineyard, located high up on a terrace of the Niagara Escarpment overlooking Lake Ontario known as the Beamsville Bench. The site caught their attention for its gentle slope and stony, limestone-rich soils, holding great promise for cool-climate viticulture. In 1986, together with wine-maker Angelo Pavan, the family founded Cave Spring Cellars. With an international reputation for its age-worthy Rieslings, Cave Spring is also known for outstanding Chardonnay, Pinot Noir and Cabernet Franc, among other cool-climate varietals.

Catalogue Release, October 15, 2010 (150 Cases)

• 95 Points, Wine Advocate #181 (Feb 2009)

"Anaperenna Shiraz (75%)-Cabernet Sauvignon (25%) was sourced from 30- to 120-year-old vines with yields ranging from 0.5 to 1.0 tons of fruit per acre. It spent 15 months in new oak, predominantly French. Purple/black in color, it offers up a splendid nose of pain grille, mineral, scorched earth, blueberry, and black currant. Dense and massive on the palate, it has layers of ripe fruit, excellent balance, and a long, fruit-filled finish."

2008 Wallace Shiraz Grenache 47605 $25.95

• 91 Points, Stephen Tanzer's International Wine Cellar (July 2010)

"Dark berries and cherry compote on the nose, with sexy floral and spice notes expanding with air. Offers very good density and sweetness, with no excess weight. Dusty tannins add support to the open-knit boysenberry and mulberry flavours. A peppery note lingers on the persistent, spicy, focused finish. Impressively lively for a hot vintage and drinking well now."

"...their 2007 Minervois demonstrates that this well-known estate can still turn out a head-turning value. Very ripe blackberry fruit sweetly caresses the palate, with cinnamon, cardamom, juniper, black pepper, and cherry pit bitterness adding interest.. For all of its richness (in itself amazing for the price) this finishes with lip-smacking juiciness and an invigorating juiciness and an invigorating impression akin to chomping down on the seeds of the blackberries."

In the foothills of the Alps, for but a few fleeting spring days, this man will gather wild blossoms for your cocktail. The blossoms in question are elderflowers, the man un paysan, and the cocktail a stylishly simple creation made with St-Germain, the first liqueur in the world created in the artisanal French manner from freshly handpicked elderflower blossoms. Our story, however, does not end there. After gently ushering the wild blossoms into a sack and descending the hillside, the man who gathers blossoms for your cocktail will then mount a bicycle and carefully ride the umbels of starry white flowers to market. There are no more than 40 or 50 men such as he, and in a matter of days they will have gathered and bicycled to us the entirety of what will become St-Germain for that year.

Distiller of the Year 2010

“With its elderflower liqueur and other bottlings, the company is generating excitement in the cocktail community with spirits whose quality and distinction ensure that they’ll outlast the trends.”
